

Starting with manufacturing supplies distribution and equipment and now landing on components, PCBs, custom battery packs, metal, and injection molding, we are experienced from the manufacturing floor to the executive conference room.

Being incredibly connected in the Northwest market, we can put people and companies together to create great synergy, a strong network and trusted solutions. We provide the experience and knowledge needed to work directly with some of the finest distributors our industry has to offer in order to provide our customers with outstanding value and exceptional results.
